Company Profile

Our Company

Barbizon Lighting Company is the nation's leading provider of entertainment and architectural lighting systems.

As early pioneers of Systems Integration, Barbizon specializes in the design, sale, service, and installation of lighting, rigging, and control equipment.

Barbizon Lighting Company has served a healthy diversity of customers from coast-to-coast. Our customers represent the best-in-class of theatre, film, television, architectural, themed environment and construction professionals.

Further, Barbizon is the nation's largest go-to-contractor for theatrical and broadcast venues connected to public educational facilities in the United States.

Who We Are

From Barbizon's 9 locations in North America and Europe, we field a first-class team of Sales People, Systems Integrators, Project Managers, and Field Service Technicians. This group of highly skilled individuals are experts in the latest technology advancements, industry standards and construction practices.

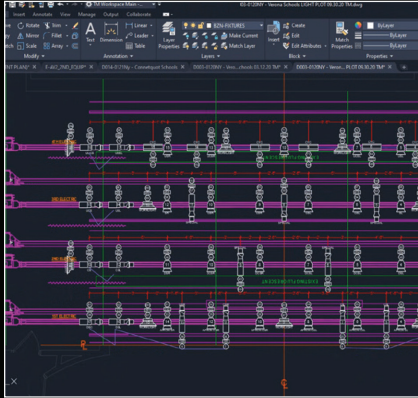

Barbizon's projects span from the spire atop of the World Trade Center, to many K-12 and higher education institutions throughout the country. Our work takes us to broadcast studios, sports and entertainment facilities, public works installations, cultural institutions, and houses of worship. Projects large and small, simple or complex, all receive the same level of service we built our reputation on for over seven decades.

Barbizon's employee group is the largest shareholder of the company. Our employees now own 51% of the company as we evolve from a family owned to an employee-owned business.

Our Services

From elementary schools, to the nation's most recognizable landmarks, Barbizon Lighting Company has the skills and the resources to ensure a smooth project from the planning phases, to turn-over to the people using the facility.

Design-Development, Pre & Post Bid Services

The design-development and pre and post bid phases of a project are often the most critical period of any project. During this time, we work closely with the design team, construction team and end-user to ensure all aspects of a system properly work together, meet the design intent and fulfills the needs of the end-user. It is during this phase that we provide scope review and development, product recommendations and documentation, budgeting, installation review, path-to-market analysis and bid leveling services.

Project Execution

Robust Project Management and execution are the foundation of any project. Our Project Managers work closely with the construction teams to ensure a smooth process, to meet all milestones, and deliver the project on time and budget. We achieve this through detailed documentation, proactive coordination, scheduling, and site supervision. We also provide comprehensive end-user training and close-out documentation to complete a project.

Technical Services

Field Service Technicians work in tandem with other trades on-site to commission and complete a project, as well as both the design team and end-user to ensure all programming fulfills the design intent. Our technicians are factory-trained and certified by leading brands within our industry, allowing them to always be current on the latest technology advancements and industry standards. Additionally, our technicians are current on the latest construction site protocols, OSHA rules, health & safety standards, and necessary certifications.
